DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Marbach.

Marbach teaches a faceplate (6) having an outer periphery (Fig. 3), an inner periphery (11), means for securing the faceplate to a pool sidewall (col. 3, lines 46-50), a first arm (top wall 14) projecting toward the skimmer housing, a second arm perpendicular thereto (rear wall 14), and a third arm (support means near bottom 15; col. 4, lines 26-31) perpendicular to the second arm projecting away from the skimmer housing (Fig. 2).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-14 are allowed.
4. Claims 16-17 and 19-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 1724

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

In the examiner's opinion, the prior art fails to teach or render obvious providing a skimmer seal to prevent communication of fluid and a skimmer housing, wherein the seal engages the inner periphery of a faceplate having the recited positioning and operational elements for a skimmer mounted to a pool sidewall and having means for fastening the faceplate to the sidewall.

While claims 15 and 18 are not patentable for the reasons provided above, in the examiner's opinion, the prior art fails to teach or fairly suggest providing the third arm or another arm with a rounded portion.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. References are cited of interest to show the state of the art.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Fred Prince whose telephone number is (571) 272-1165. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday, 6:30-4:00; alt. Fridays 6:30-3:00.
